To whom it may concern

As members of the local community, you may be aware of recent difficulties in the relationship between the County Council, the Governing Body of St.
Hardulph’s school and the Breedon Community Association. The County Council has now acted to bring the relationship with the Breedon Community Association to an end with effect from 1st January 2009.

The attached note is intended to give you a summary of what has been a very complex dispute and to reassure you that the school premises will still be available for hire by community groups and individuals locally.

A substantial sum of money will be repaid to the Community Association to reflect the money originally given to the County Council towards the cost of building the school. The Community Association can use that money for the benefit of the community in the future.

I hope you will agree that in these very difficult circumstances the action taken by the County Council is in the interests of all parties.

Yours sincerely,

E. M. McCalla  G. I. Williams
County Solicitor  Director of Children & Young People’s Service
